Experience:

As an illustrator and designer I've spent the last decade creating album covers, t-shirts and other merchandise for the rock 'n' roll industry. Doing that, I often took an ongoing role in visual branding for music groups and events, and continue to enjoy attempting reinventing the face of the genre. In my recent experience with Sony, I've learned to be creative within the context of product time-lines and work up to industry standards, as well function in chaos which is the corporate world is at times.

I come packing highly developed traditional and digital drawing skills, color, image manipulation, storyboarding and layout experience. I excel at spinning off a given theme and developing those ideas into fruition. I work effectively in a team setting, but have the confidence to go off into uncharted territory on my own. Fluent in CS and MSO.
